Aurum

The Harley-Davidson Breakout models appear long and slim when they come out of the Factory. The manufacturer describes them as “modern, muscular choppers for which at every traffic light the drag strip starts”. Further characteristics are forward footrests and a low, relaxed sitting position. Rick’s wanted to stick to these for the Breakout typical genes and only give it a makeover. A more individual look and flowing lines were the aim on this project, and that the plan worked out can clearly be seen in the pictures on this page.
