The Booster

Harley-Davidson Touring models are slow, big beasts and not able to accelerate quickly at the lights? Well, that may be the case, but Rick's Street Glide proves that it can also be different, improved greatly at Rick's in terms of performance and acceleration. This 'power package' combines qualities like sitting comfort and luggage space and a navigation and sound system of a tourer with the genes of a sprinting high-performance sportsman. And if this wasn't enough, the Street Glide was also given an optical makeover...but let's look at one thing after the other!
